TRISONICS (SONIC 98)

SUMMARY:

Sonic is reuinited with Sonia and Manic, the long-lost sister and brother he never knew he had. They form a "hog-rock" group -- the Newsonics -- and go on tour, but their real mission is to find the mother they've never known -- not to mention freeing Mobius from the domination of the evil Robotnik.

CHARACTERS:

- SONIC remains the same irreverent teenager we know and love. He plays guitar and is the primary vocalist of the group, and is the de facto leader.
- Sexy SONIA (think "Jessica Rabbit") plays bass and sings back-up. As the oldest of the triplets, she reluctantly has to be the responsible one, even if her instincts are to play around and goof off just like one of the guys.
- If Sonic comes across like an aggro fourteen year-old and Sonia is more like a not-so-sweet-sixteen year old, MANIC the drummer would be about two. He's totally out of control. (Sounds like most rock drummers we know, actually.) Manic's motto: live fast, drum hard, stay young. Constantly getting the others into humongous jams.
- ROBOTNIK is his same old evil self, but now we know he's been obsessed with Sonic's mother, the Princess and rightful ruler of Mobius, for all these years. Because of him, she gave up her children, and must remain hidden.
- SCRATCH & GROUNDER are Robotnik's bounty hunters. Their job is to find out where Sonic, Sonia and Manic are playing their gigs, and capture them in order to lure Princess Hedgehog out of hiding.

STORIES:
In their search to find their mother, Sonic, Sonia and Manic are like rock musicians on permanent tour. Being on the road has become their way of life. But they can't help getting involved with Mobians they meet along the way, providing a wealth of story possibilities in addition to their ongoing quest.